CHOOSING THE RIGHT TRANSPORTATION AND LOGISTICS PARTNER

A Dedicated Solution for Your Freight Needs

DEDICATED PRIVATE FLEET | FINAL MILE | INTERMODAL | MEXICO | PREMIUM SERVICES

In transportation and logistics, there's no room for half measures or empty promises. Managing a fleet, coordinating drivers and ensuring your freight gets where it needs to go is a full-time job. It's complex and challenging and often involves nitty-gritty details that take you away from what you do best: running your business. That's why you need a partner who can take on those complexities with confidence and ease.

Choosing the right logistics partner for your business is critical. They should be an extension of your team, bringing the expertise, reliability and trust of an experienced leader. In this guide from Werner®, we'll explore key considerations when choosing the right dedicated solution provider for your transportation and freight needs.

'MUST-HAVES' FOR YOUR FREIGHT SOLUTION

The following 'must-haves' are important ingredients to success for getting your freight where it needs to be when it needs to be there safely and efficiently. Find a partner that delivers long-term value and results. That's where the Werner Difference comes in.

AROUND-THE-CLOCK COVERAGE

Logistics is a 24/7 business that requires around-the-clock attention from operational teams. The right logistics partner should provide 24/7 support to ensure your shipments are always on track and any potential issues are addressed before they become problems.

At Werner, we don't just react to challenges—we anticipate them. Our team makes real-time adjustments at every hour of the day to keep freight moving. This proactive approach is a big part of what sets Werner apart.

TRUSTED ON-TIME DELIVERY

In logistics, timing isn't just important—it's everything. On-time delivery is the result of rigorous planning, a relentless focus on precision and a team dedicated to getting your freight where it needs to be when it needs to be there.

With a 99.8% on-time delivery rate, Werner sets the standard for reliability in this industry. We understand your business depends on us, and we don't take that responsibility lightly.

PRIVATE FLEET CONVERSION

Why take on the burden of managing a private fleet when a trusted partner can do it for you? Private fleet conversion service allows you to leverage the expertise, resources and infrastructure of your logistics partner while still maintaining the benefits of a dedicated fleet.

At Werner, we take care of everything—maintenance, compliance, driver management—so you can enjoy the cost savings, efficiency and peace of mind with having Werner as an extension of your team.

MULTI-MODAL SOLUTIONS

No two businesses are the same, and neither are their freight needs. The right partner must offer a range of equipment options and multi-modal solutions to meet your specific requirements, including temperature-controlled trailers, flatbeds and specialized equipment.

Because Werner's strength lies in multi-modal solutions, we can integrate different transportation methods to provide the most efficient and cost-effective solution for your business while keeping sustainability in mind.

EXPERIENCE THE WERNER DIFFERENCE

We've been in the trenches, solving the toughest logistics challenges and delivering results others can only discuss. When you partner with Werner, you're not just getting a service but decades of proven success.
